STATUTORY BACKGROUND

10. The requirements for the subject loans are set forth in NRS 604A.480 as follows:

NRS 604A.480 Limitations on using proceeds of new loan to pay balance of outstanding loan; exceptions.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, if a customer agrees in writing to establish or extend the period for the repayment, renewal, refinancing or consolidation of an outstanding loan by using the proceeds of a new deferred deposit loan or high-interest loan to pay the balance of the outstanding loan, the licensee shall not establish or extend the period beyond 60 days after the expiration of the initial loan period. The licensee shall not add any unpaid interest or other charges accrued during the original term of the outstanding loan or any extension of the outstanding loan to the principal amount of the new deferred deposit loan or high-interest loan.

2. This section does not apply to a new deferred deposit loan or high-interest loan if the licensee:
   (a) Makes the new deferred deposit loan or high-interest loan to a customer pursuant to a loan agreement which, under its original terms:
      (1) Charges an annual percentage rate of less than 200 percent;
      (2) Requires the customer to make a payment on the loan at least once every 30 days;
      (3) Requires the loan to be paid in full in not less than 150 days; and
      (4) Provides that interest does not accrue on the loan at the annual percentage rate set forth in the loan agreement after the date of maturity of the loan;
   (b) Performs a credit check of the customer with a major consumer reporting agency before making the loan;
   (c) Reports information relating to the loan experience of the customer to a major consumer reporting agency;
   (d) Gives the customer the right to rescind the new deferred deposit loan or high-interest loan within 5 days after the loan is made without charging the customer any fee for rescinding the loan;
   (e) Participates in good faith with a counseling agency that is:
(1) Accredited by the Council on Accreditation for Services for Families and Children, Inc., or its successor organization; and

(2) A member of the National Foundation for Credit Counseling, or its successor organization; and

(f) Does not commence any civil action or process of alternative dispute resolution on a defaulted loan or any extension or repayment plan thereof.

11. Further, NRS 604A.410 establishes the required disclosures for loan contracts as follows:

NRS 604A.410 Written loan agreement required; contents.

1. Before making any loan to a customer, a licensee shall provide to the customer a written loan agreement which may be kept by the customer and which must be written in:

(a) English, if the transaction is conducted in English; or
(b) Spanish, if the transaction is conducted in Spanish.

2. The loan agreement must include, without limitation, the following information:

(a) The name and address of the licensee and the customer;
(b) The nature of the security for the loan, if any;
(c) The date and amount of the loan, amount financed, annual percentage rate, finance charge, total of payments, payment schedule and a description and the amount of every fee charged, regardless of the name given to the fee and regardless of whether the fee is required to be included in the finance charge under the Truth in Lending Act and Regulation Z;
(d) A disclosure of the right of the customer to rescind a loan pursuant to the provisions of this chapter;
(e) A disclosure of the right of the customer to pay his loan in full or in part with no additional charge pursuant to the provisions of this chapter;
(f) A disclosure stating that, if the customer defaults on the loan, the licensee must offer a repayment plan to the customer before the licensee commences any civil action or process of alternative dispute resolution or, if appropriate for the loan, before the licensee repossesses a vehicle; and
(g) Any other disclosures required under the Truth in Lending Act and Regulation Z or under any other applicable federal or state statute or regulation.

12. The question presented requests that the Division resolve the disparity between the two statues.
QUESTION PRESENTED

13. The Petitioner presents the following question for an advisory opinion: Is a loan made pursuant to NRS 604A.480 required to disclose that the "licensee must offer a repayment plan to the customer before the licensee commences any civil action or process of alternative dispute resolution or, if appropriate for the loan, before the licensee repossesses a vehicle" as required by NRS 604A.410.

14. The Petitioner points out that NRS 604A.410 requires "any loan" to make the disclosure that a repayment plan must be offered prior to civil action or alternative dispute resolution.

15. However, civil action and alternative dispute resolution are specifically prohibited in loans made pursuant to NRS 604A.480,

16. NRS 604A.410.(2)(f) states that the licensee can "not commence any civil action or process of alternative dispute resolution on a defaulted loan or any extension or repayment plan thereof."

LEGAL ANALYSIS

17. While this issue has been the source of ongoing confusion and dispute, this is the first time the Division has had an opportunity to address it as an Advisory Opinion or Declaratory Order.

18. The answer to this question requires a review of the rules of statutory construction.

19. The Nevada Supreme Court stated in V and S Ry. LLC v. White Pine County, 211 P.3d 879, 882 (Nev.,2009), "In Nevada, "words in a statute should be given their plain meaning unless this violates the spirit of the act." (Id citing McKay v. Bd. of Supervisors, 102 Nev. 644, 648, 730 P.2d 438, 441 (1986)).

21. While this issue was not directly addressed in the legislative hearings, it is clear the spirit of the legislation was to provide protection from abuses by lenders in the collection of loans. Assemblywoman Barbara Buckley, the sponsor of the bill, stated that existing law did not provide adequate protections for consumers in the collection of deferred deposit loans.

Deferred-deposit loans are governed by chapter 604 of the NRS and the protections were added to our statutes in A.B. No. 431 of the 70th Session. It has a prohibitive-practice section which says you cannot threaten criminal prosecution and you cannot charge any fees that a lender cannot generally collect. Also, upon default you get prime plus 10 percent. What is not in this bill is the fair debt-collection practice, military protections, more specific protections like making up imaginary fees or adding garnishment fees of $1,200, and there is no remedy section. There is no enforcement when a bad actor does these things. These are all in chapter 604 of the NRS. Chapter 675 of the NRS is the general installment-loan chapter so any lender falls under that and there are no specific protections for high-cost, short-turnaround loans at all. The title-pawn industry provisions on the last slide of Exhibit E are all new.

22. The intent to regulate collection practices are somewhat related to the question presented because the consumer should not feel that he is subject to civil action when, in fact such actions are prohibited by law.

23. It is important to note that the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA) prohibits “the threat to take any action that cannot legally be taken or that is not intended to be taken.” 15 U.S.C. § 1692e(5). This provision is made applicable to licensees pursuant to NRS 604A.415(1).

24. With this legislative intent in mind, it would be an absurd result to require that a licensee making a loan under NRS 604A.480 be required to have a contractual provision stating that a repayment plan be offered prior to initiating a civil proceeding or alternative dispute resolution when those actions are prohibited by law.

25. Consequently, the Division believes that the potential for abuse and misunderstanding are substantial and that no contract under 604A.480 should state or insinuate that a civil action could be taken against a borrower or that a borrower could be subject to alternative dispute resolution should a default occur.

CONCLUSION

26. Therefore, the Division's opinion is that a contract made pursuant to NRS 604A.480 should not mention civil action or process of alternative dispute resolution in its disclosure requirements under NRS 604A.410.

27. Nothing in this opinion shall preclude or effect any other disclosures required under NRS 604A.410.

28. Nothing in this opinion shall effect the requirement that a borrower be offered a repayment plan upon a default of a loan made pursuant to NRS 604A.480.

29. Finally, this opinion does not preclude a licensee from disclosing that civil actions or processes of alternative dispute resolution are prohibited in loans made pursuant to NRS 604A.480.

30. Because this issue has been a source of controversy, the Division issued its decision in the form of a declaratory order and will provide this opinion on its website, located at www.fid.state.nv.us, so it may be used as a source of reference in future examinations.
